A DISCOVERY.

A glass of beer in tablet form is the very latest gag; And in its train perhaps we'll gain A tabloid form of jag.

The funeral of little Leslie McMahan took place yesterday morning with services at the grave by Rev. Felix K. Struve. Interment in the Maysville Cemetery.

Owing to a break in the Courier's machinery she was compelled to lay over this morning in Cincinnati for repairs, and the Greenwood did the way business in her stead.

Colonel C. L. Roenham returned home yesterday, after a ten days visit at Louisville, Bardonia, Nelsonville and New Haven. Mr. Austin Roenham Quigley, who graduated in the Medical School at Louisville will arrive Tuesday on a visit, after which he will locate in the Falls City and practice his profession in the office of his uncle, Dr. Creamer, one of the oldest and leading physicians in the city.

One of Maurice Conghin's fine hacks was badly damaged Sunday morning by collision with a streetcar in front of G. W. Child's cigar store in Second street. A door and side lamp were torn off, a spoke in the hind wheel was splintered and the front spring broken. The driver was thrown from his seat and Bruce Crawford, one of the occupants, had his leg badly hurt. Altogether it was an unfortunate mishap and it will require several dollars to repair damages.

NEGROES ON RAMPAGE

John Spencer, Hiram Alexander and Emmett Payne Run Amuck With Murderous Intent

Chronic Peace Disturbers in the Law's Clutches

John Spencer, a crazy colored man, was on a rampage Saturday, threatening to kill his aged mother with an ax.

He was arrested by Sheriff Mackey and Officer Senteney and placed in Jail.

Spencer's relatives are afraid of their lives at his hands, as this is not the first time he has been arrested on a similar charge. He ought to be put some place where no harm will come to innocent and respectable people.

He is known to be a dangerous character.

Hiram Alexander, colored, ran amuck in Market street Saturday night.

He was drunk, armed with a revolver and wanted to kill Henry Johnson, colored.

Notwithstanding his braggadocio as to what he would do if any one attempted his arrest, he was collared by Officer Ryan and together with Johnson was yanked off to Jail.

A bluff don't go with Chief Ort's men; they all have sand in their craw and staying qualities.

The Sunday quietude of yesterday afternoon was rudely broken about 2:30 o'clock by the rapid firing of four or five pistol shots, which came from the lower grade on the Ohio shore.

The fusillade came from the town officers of Aberdeen and the object of their had marksmanship was Emmett Payne, colored, who elusively pulled his knife to this side of the river without receiving a scratch, although the distance when the firing began was not over thirty feet.

Payne has been excommunicated from the community under the penalty of fine and incarceration in prison, in consequence of his having taken a shot or two at his wife some two weeks ago, an account of which was published in THE LEDGER at the time.

Payne says he did not intend entering the town or violating his parole, but had sent a boy up to his former home to get his clothing with the intention of bringing them over here, where he is employed.

Soon after the firing began both sides of the river bank were lined with people all eager to see and learn the cause of the trouble.

FRUIT PRESERVES

For a few days we will accept orders for the following kinds: Peach, Damson, Cherry, Red and Black Raspberry, Strawberry and Pineapple. The crops are all very short. Most of the packers have withdrawn from the market. Have sold out. Our advice is to place your order with us at once. The Heinz and Ferndell lines will be withdrawn within 80 days. Come now and place your order.

FINED $100

Was the Adams Express Company For Bringing Beer Into Shepherdsville—Appeal Taken.

At Shepherdsville, County Judge R. F. Hays fined the Adams Express Company $100 on the charge of bringing liquor into a local option county and precinct.

Some weeks since the company shipped twenty-three kegs of beer to a fishing club.

The judgment was rendered by default and the case will probably be appealed, the express company claiming the right to ship under interstate commerce law.

The question in the case is as to whether the beer was shipped from Louisville or Jeffersonville, Ind.

A SNAP FOR THE LITTLE ONES!

A little early to buy the boy a fall suit. His coat is quite presentable yet, but the pants (you know they are the first to wear out) don't look so good any more. We have about 350 Knee Pants, in all colors, that we will sell during this week at just one-half of the price. Blues and blacks, however, are not in this sale. Mothers, here is the chance to buy the little fellow two pairs for the price of one. Spot cash when the Pants are taken out of the house.

We still have quite a number of our Two-Piece Outing Suits that we are offering and selling at greatly reduced prices! We have made the same reduction on our Panama Hats that we have on all the other Straw Hats, namely, one-third off. This is the first time that Panamas were ever sold that cheap.

AN after farce-comedy reflection is that the great BILL CARNES, of somewhere, "seen his duty and done it."—Courier-Journal.

JUDGE HARGIS has decided to retire from the assassination business. If he is very, very good he's going to be quite lonesome in bloody Breathitt.

"If people paid as strict attention to de Ten Commandments," said Uncle EBEN, "as dey pays to de rules of a card game, de piety of dis world would be sumpin' surprisin'."

THE Pennsylvania Democrats have adopted the slogan, "Thou shalt not steal."—Louisville Times.

Some more Democratic advice. "Thou" means the other fellow. Why not declare: "We will not steal."

THE Cincinnati Volksblatt, the leading German newspaper of the country, comes out strong for TAFT, and declares that with Ohio's delegation behind him, his nomination in the National Convention is assured.

FORMER Vice-President ADLAI E. STEVENSON in a recent interview at Norfolk, Va., stated that he favored W. J. BRYAN for the Democratic nomination. The world do move, but Uncle ADLAI don't seem to know it.

THE PUBLIC LEDGER is for TAFT for President and proposes to support his candidacy to the end; but we rise to remark that The New York World's alleged support of the Secretary is a great big yellow hoodoo. The World is merely advertising itself.

GOVERNOR BECKHAM has worked the Caleb Powers game of partisan politics to the limit. The tide has turned, and the Powers matter is hurting CRAPPS more than it is helping him. Better ring off, Gov., or you're a goner.

ACCORDING to Colonel SAMUEL H. STONE, former State Auditor of Kentucky, who was recently in Washington on business, the Republicans have an excellent chance of winning in the Gubernatorial election. Colonel STONE declares that the result depends in a great measure upon the way the vote of Louisville goes. Outside of Louisville, he says, the contest is unusually even.

THE acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue has ruled that when liquors are ordered by a guest of a hotel from the bar and served in the room accompanied by a price slip or ticket, no liability to special tax is incurred by the hotel proprietor, even though at request, and for the convenience of said guest, he pays the amount of such ticket or slip in cash to the bar and charges it up to the guest's account.

AT Campton, county seat of Wolf county, comes this little story of mountain morality: To avoid continual quarreling among his illegitimate children and possibly another murder, GEORGE W. CARSON, aged 77, twice County Judge and twice Sheriff of Wolf county, has obtained permission from the Wolf Circuit Court to adopt them as his legal heirs. Judge CARSON has an estate valued at nearly $100,000. He was never married.

IMMIGRATION RIGHT!

Circassians Looking For a New Home in This State

Provided 3,000 acres of good, well-watered ground can be produced by the land owners in any one section of the state it is probable that a colony of Circassians from the Caucasus will settle in Kentucky.

This news came in the form of a letter to Judge W. G. Dearing of Louisville from Orlan Clyde Callen, a prominent Attorney of St. Paul, who represents this particular colony of Russians, who have expressed a desire to immigrate to this country.

"CAMP COX"

Happy Gang of Maysvillians Cruises on the Ohio Hunting For a Good Time

"Camp Cox" in honor of the next Lieutenant Governor of Kentucky, Hon. W. H. Cox, is the name of the summer camp of a small party of Maysvillians, who started out Sunday morning in the "wee sma' bonns" for a two weeks' cruise on the Ohio bank opposite Concord.

In the party were: Col. Leon Squires, Col. William Schlitz, Col. Conrad Rasp and Col. Hal Carran.

A remarkable thing about the gathering is that the party is made up of Colonels—there isn't a General or a Private in the gang.

"Camp Cox" is fully equipped for a good time, and fishing, hunting, bathing and other innocent stunts will be the order of the day. P. S.—And the next day it rained.

The cover is particularly handsome having been made from a special design drawn for the Blue Grass Fair by the eminent artist, Geo. Ford Morris of Chicago.

Any person wishing catalogs can secure same by applying at this office.

WIFE ON DINER

When C. and O. Train Carried Husband and Child Away

An unusual incident occurred in Ashland when the fast through train arrived there from the East. On board were Mr. and Mrs. Graves of St. Louis, New Foundland, en route to Louisville, accompanied by their infant child.

When the train reached Huntington, Mr. Graves was in the diner and Mr. Graves was in the Pullman with the child.

Without her knowledge, the diner was cut off at the siding in Ashland, and the father a child sent on over the Lexington division, leaving the mother behind.

When Mrs. Graves discovered what had been done she was frantic with fear.

The C. and O. officials immediately took the matter, and by wiring ahead, caught the Graves and the baby and dispatched the wife and mother on the next train.

SAVED HIS BLOCK

Drunken Man Dozing on Railroad Viaduct Pulled Out of Way Just in Time

Saturday morning a well-appearing man evidently a railroader in some capacity, who was just drunk enough to be indifferent to his danger, sat down on the edge of the timber runner that lines the track on the viaduct at the foot of Market street, and placing his elbows on his knees and his head between his hands dropped off into a comfortable slumber.

The position of the sleeper brought his head in a direct angle with the outer edge of the cross beam on the forward part of a moving locomotive, and had he been permitted to have remained in his seat for only a short time he would have been knocked to kingdom come by the Westbound passenger train that whizzed off into a comfortable slumber.

Mr. Alex Johnson happening along noticed the peril of the man and aroused him from his slumber and insisted on his moving away, which he did, but indignantly that his American rights of sleeping on a railroad track had been interfered with.

And still many people wonder at the number of unfortunates ground to pieces under the wheels of moving trains.

It is easily to be seen wherein lies the fault.
